OUEC NEWSLETTER

Dear Explorers,

(1) Expedition Medicine: Part I

Thanks for joining us last Tuesday for the first part of the Expedition Medicine workshop. Vedang Narain, from the Oxford First Aid Society, led the first part of the Expedition Medicine workshop where we covered the basics of first aid care provision, ran some scenarios, and had some 'hands-on' training.

Watch this space for the second part of the workshop where we'll look into more 'niche' topics like decompression and altitude sickness!

(2) Week 6 Talk

Marine Expeditions and Indian Ocean Biodiversity: Denise

Swanborn

Join Denise Swanborn as she discusses the numerous marine expeditions her research has enabled her to lead across the world, with the goal of mapping the seabed and understanding our ocean's ecology. Her current DPhil project aims to understand the effects that seabed topography has on the biodiversity of the Indian Ocean.

If oceanic expeditions are your thing, this talk is not to be missed!
