
Oxford University Exploration Club Reminder: Michaelmas Meeting I Expedition Planning and A Toast

Expedition Planning I

Featuring:
Shane Winser (Royal Geographical Society)
Carla Fuenteslópez

Ever wanted to plan your own expedition from scratch, with your own destination and a novel purpose? This event introduces the way in which students can and have used the OUEC in order to do just that!

We talk you through the process of forming an initial idea, and the steps you then need to take to get this idea off the ground – including details on how to apply to grant programmes such as support through the Oxford University Expeditions Council.

When & Where:
October 10, 2023, 19:30 @ Queen's College, High Street. Meet at the gate.

Departures: The West Bengal Water Project

Join us after the meeting to toast The West Bengal Water Project Team. They will be departing shortly on their expedition, which has been more than a year in the making!

'The focus of this project is identifying pioneering water management initiatives in West Bengal and Sikkim. We are driven by questions about how communities adapt to shifting hydrological conditions, what innovative methods are employed to mitigate water-related risks, and whether West Bengal's water managers can serve as global exemplars. Our dedicated team comprises five graduate students from the School of Geography and the Environment who are enthusiastic about learning, exploring, and sharing our discoveries. Our research is anchored by our incredible network of regional partners. Their insights and pioneering approaches are the backbone of this project, ensuring its viability and impact.'

To learn more about their project, visit their website [HERE].
To wish them good luck, join us at The Lamb & Flag after our meeting tonight!

OUEC Platforms

Finally, please find all of our social media platforms and website below. This is the most up-to-date listing.
